Man Shot Dead by Marine While Trying to Escape from the Navy Yard Was James Levering, Member of a Gang.

from a ship in drydock in the Brook-Navy Yard early to-day, Lawrence E. Wilton, a private in the United es Marine Corps, who had been detailed to watch for thieves who have she did not like the property she was The men were struggling to get a big bundle of copper out of the yard when Wilton caught them. Instead of halting they dropped the bundle and ran for the wall with the idea of sorambling over it.

she went to Dumont with her need to him the property was nothing like it had been represented to her. She said she demanded her money back but so far had been unable to get any part of it. Both men protested they had acted in good faith with Mrs. Seuborth.

Wilton yelled to them twice to halt, but they paid no attention. Wilton then raised his rifle to his shoulder and fired. One of the men dropped. The others hept on, and as they were going over the wall Wilton fired again. This shot went wild and the three escaped.

The man who was shot was dead when Wilton reached him. The bullet had gone through the small of his back. He was later identified as James Levering, twenty-six years old, a member of a gang of young toughs who hang about the Navy-Yard. So far as known he had no permanent home. A woman's picture was found in his pooket.

When the police of the Clermont avesue station heard of the shooting they went to the Navy-Yard to arrest Wilcon. The commandant of the yard refused to surrender the man.

If so, your nerves are in a shattered condition, and you are threatened with nervous prostration.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-

The trouble between children and their methers too often is due to the fact that the mother has some female weakness, and she is entirely unfit to bear the strain upon her nerves that governing children involves; it is impossible for her to do anything caimly.

The ills of women act like a firebrand upon the nerves, consequently.

Mrs. Charles F. Brown, Vice-President of the Mothers' Club, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., writes:
